Progress Note

2018-19 added another year in our long-term efforts at Jatan towards equitable development. Our commitment to include disadvantaged adolescents, children, and women in mainstream development continue to bring changes in their lives. When we review our work, we feel inspired to realize that we have made a small contribution to achieving sustainable goals. Recognizing the reciprocal relationship between the efforts of grassroots voluntary organizations and globally set development goals reveals the critical role these organizations play and establishes the fact that both small and large efforts towards development are required to change lives.

This year our efforts were recognized in a number of ways, providing opportunities to conduct more outreach and learn as an institution. Jatan was selected to play the role of State Coordinator in association with Child Fund India to engage partner organizations across Rajasthan in a platform to exchange learning and building leadership capacity. Similarly, our work on menstrual management was recognized by the governments of the north-eastern states and we were invited to set-up menstrual management units in four states. Jatan continues to innovate new approaches to menstrual health that are research and experience based, effective, and pioneering. Most recently, Jatan has taken the responsibility of sensitizing male teenagers and men on the issue of menstruation and has taken the bold move to link this issue with almost every training program. Such efforts help to realize the dream of an egalitarian society.

Opportunities for capacity building of workers and experience sharing are found in both the Annual Camp and the Jashn-e-Jatan Programme. This year the theme of Punjabi was chosen for the Annual Camp and Foundation Day held in Jaisalmer and facilitated cultural understanding within our team and about our neighboring states. These opportunities increase our energy, which helps us achieve better results in our work. Your cooperation and guidance are also sources of energy that are always connected with us and we believe will always be connected.

With best wishes,

Dr. Kailash Brijwasi
Executive Director

We the Jatanites, do not support the use of plastic.

We do not use plastic bags, plastic water bottles, flecks / banners, plastic folders, straws, plastic or thermocol cups, thermocol sheets, printing materials, food packets or cans, etc. on campus as well as in our program implementation.

Everyone is young here.

Jatan is intentional that most of our companions are under 35 years of age. 95% of the field partners are young.

It is also a matter of pride for us that more than half of the total staff are women.

Reduce, reuse, and recycle

We know that the resources are very limited. So we emphasize their right and proper use.

Sensitivity

We believe in equal opportunities to work for every gender and sexuality in Jatan. We respect all the genders and sexualities.

With children

Introduction

Jatan has made meaningful, grassroots efforts throughout the year in Rajsamand and Udaipur Districts on children's issues such as education and better health including nutrition, hygiene, vaccination and safety. We directly reached out to more than 20,500 children in activities that support a better future for each of them.

We have continued the work started in 2016 the Khushi Project with children of 0-6 years of age enrolled in 504 Anganwadi Centers on the issues of health, nutrition, and preschool education through in three subdivisions of Rajsamand District, Khamanor, Railamgara, and Rajsamand. Evaluation of Anganwadi Centers and pre-school education, anganwadi workers and helper residential training, distribution of need-based materials, health check-up of children, lab examination of THR, kitchen garden, recipe making, etc. were conducted regularly.

Based on the understanding reached through the Khushi Project, many similar activities were conducted under the Child Development Project in 35 villages of Gogunda subdivision of Udaipur District with a focus on children's health and nutrition. Towards this goal, various activities were organized with Gogunda's mothers to help them focus on better health and nutrition for their children

Jatan served children through a variety of other activities as well. School children were connected with each other in regional sports events. Also, a total of 539 cases were registered in Rajsamand District under Childline 1098 this year. Thus, the community was made aware of child safety through regular follow-ups, awareness building workshops, and outreach activities. More than 70 school children were informed about 'good-bad touch' by screenings of the film Komal.

Regular support classes as well as workshops to develop creative skills, educational excursions and platforms to encourage talents were provided for 77 children through the Apna Jatan Kendra in the Kucchi Basti area of Udaipur to help connect them to the mainstream education.

Support in Pre-school Education

Activities for pre-school education were organized with 10,300 children of Rajsamand and 235 children of Gogunda. Work was done on different development based activities with the age groups of 3-4 and 4-6 years. Work on language development, cognitive development, physical development, social development, and creative skill development was done by strengthening the time table fixed by the department at Anganwadi centers.

Training of Anganwadi workers

A five-day residential training was organized for anganwadi workers, 445 from Rajsamand District and 10 from Gogunda. During this, special sessions were organized on understanding all the aspects of pre-school education, poetry writing as well as activities such as creating projects out of waste, etc.

Projects

Khushi (Rajsamand, Railmagra, Khamnor); Child development project (Gogunda); Childline 1098 (Rajsamand); Apna Jatan(Udaipur)

Pre-school assessment

Individual assessments were conducted twice, in July and March, with children aged between 3-4 and 4-6 years. In the first assessment in the age group of 3-4 years, 57% of the children performed better, while in the second assessment of the same age group 68% performed better. Similarly, in the age group of 4-6 years, the result was 57% for the first time and 76% for the second time. This signifies that the hard work done throughout the year with children was fruitful. Children's personal reports were marked on the card and shared with their parents.

Kit Distribution

In Rajsamand District, 10,300 children were provided a bag, practice book, stationery kit to start the school year. The assumption behind this kit was that pre-school education at the center could be strengthened further by providing material in addition to practice books provided by the government. Also, Anganwadi Centers can be designed in comparison to private nursery schools opened at the village level. New uniforms and shoes were also provided to children this year. This was done under the "Khushee Baatiye Campaign".

E-Learning

There was a focus on e-learning for children with the help of LED TVs provided under the project at 112 centers in Rajsamand District. During this time, the education material available by UNICEF and other institutions was used for the development of children. Theme and theme-based materials were provided every month to build an understanding of each topic.

Coordination with parents

In order to build the understanding of parents on pre-school education, regular monthly meetings focused on holistic development of children were conducted. Through these subject-based meetings, it was expected that the real situation of children should be understood and children will be treated accordingly.

Quality Education

Different activities were organized this year for drop out and out of school children aged 5-13 in 35 villages of Gogunda subdivision of Udaipur and in urban slum area, Neemach Mata slum. The activities focused on the importance of education and their educational development.

Support Classes

To support school-going children in their education, we started conducting regular support classes after school through our "Basic Skill Building" centers in 10 villages of Gogunda. Regular sessions of 3 to 4 hours that covered various subjects with a focus on science and mathematics were conducted. The benefits of these classes are to prevent dropouts by eliminating the fear of these subjects from the minds of many children.

Classes were also conducted regularly in the urban area of Udaipur with 77 school going children through Apna Jatan Kendra. In addition, separate classes were conducted regularly with children who are not going to school.

Children Paliament

The meetings of the Student Parliament were held a total of 3 times this year. The purpose of this program is to give students an opportunity to make suggestions and take action to improve their education as well as their school premises. A total of 201 students participated.

Child Clubs formation and meetings

Child clubs and student parliaments were formed in selected schools in Gogunda, which met regularly for monthly meetings. The role of children in schools was increased through these initiatives.

Digital classes

Digital classes were started in 10 selected schools of Gogunda by providing digital learning material along with projectors and screens. In this context, the concerned parents and school principals were trained and regular monitoring was done and hand holding support was provided.

Sponsor Week

Sponsor Week Celebration was organized in the third quarter in which selected children received grants directly from various donors. A total of 143 children participated.

Sports Week

During the sports week organized at the block level in Gogunda, 272 children and adolescent boys and girls participated in various competitions from 26 villages, which included 161 sponsor children. Various individual and group activities were organized. Traditional tribal sports were also included. The winners were awarded.

Health- Hygiene

Work on children's health and hygiene continued this year with activities such as regular health screenings of 8760 children under the Khushi Project in Rajsamand and linking more than 200 SAM children to the hospital, as well as the distribution of sanitation kits in Gogunda. Under children's health and nutrition, a special focus was on children and Anganwadi staff in Rajsamand whereas in Gogunda community members, especially parents, were also included.

Quarterly Health Check-up Camps

Health checkups of all enrolled children of 256 AWCs in the 3 blocks of Gogunda, Rajsamand and Udaipur slum area were conducted thrice a year. Children's growth, hemoglobin, skin, eyes, nose-ears-throat, and nutrition status were checked in this duration.

Fifth Year of Summer Camp

This year a two-month summer camp was organized during the May-June vacation for the fifth year in a row. Children showed interest in computer learning, arts and crafts, dance, singing, etc during the camp. The Apna Jatan Annual Festival, in which children gave cultural performances, was organized after the summer camp.

Educational Tours

The educational tour of Apna Jatan Center was conducted in every quarter. This year the tours were continued by visiting Kumbhalgarh, Haldighati, Health Wonder World, Pichola Lake, and the National Film Festival. More than 50 children attended each excursion.

A two-day residential training with 120 children of Gogunda was organized in Udaipur, in which they learned Kabaad se Jugaad (up-cycling art & craft activities). Children also enjoyed an Udaipur city tour along with visiting the Fish Aquarium, a 3D film show and Celebration Mall.

We also got support from RKSK for a centre-level organized check-up program. A total of 8760 children were benefitted with regular follow up. 8% of the children were referred to government hospitals. Jatan also participated actively in maternity child health and nutrition day organized on every third Thursday. Regular health checkups were also conducted with the children of 10 AWCs in Gogunda.

Need-Based Supply

Weighing machines, first aid boxes, hygiene kits and informative posters were distributed at all 504 AWCs.

Awareness

Awareness programs through meetings and sessions with parents, anganwadi workers, ANMs, and ASHAs were conducted on various health topics throughout the year. A major focus was on children’s hand washing. Awareness programs on cleanliness were conducted with support of elected representatives at Panchayats along with community based meetings in Gogunda and Relmagra.

Nutrition

By seeing the status of malnutrition and anemia in pregnant-lactating women (and adolescent girls) as well as infants and small children in southern Rajasthan, we started preventive measures three years ago with proper strategy and intensity. Although we are getting good results today, the status of nutrition is not much improved in this area.

Identification and Treatment of Malnourished Children

355 SAM children were identified this year in Rajsamand, Gogunda and urban area of Udaipur. Out of which 348 children were in Rajsamand only. Specifically, 45 children were immediately referred to MTC (Malnourishment treatment centre) at the district headquarters. The rest of the SAM children were supported with nutrition through RUTF process at their homes and at AWCs. Fortunately, not a single case of death was reported due to malnutrition, whereas 3 identified children died earlier due to lack of proper nutrition.

We extended Rajsamand’s experience in Gogunda as well and identified 7 SAM children in the first round.

Development of Kitchen Garden

Kitchen gardens were prepared twice a year at 480 centers in Rajsamand and Gogunda blocks. There were 471 centers in Rajsamand District and 9 centers in Gogunda. Vegetables that grow on vines were planted in monsoon whereas in winter seeds of beans, ladyfinger, tomato, spinach, peas, fenugreek etc. were made available and their beds were prepared. The ripe vegetables were included in the lunch and the remaining vegetables were given to the pregnant and lactating women as per requirement.

Recipe Training and Nutrition Fair

Recipe trials were conducted thrice a year at 253 centers (50% of selected centers) in Rajsamand and at 10 centers of Gogunda. Various nutritious dishes were taught to be prepared from the THR provided by these Anganwadi Centers. Also, followed up was conducted to know if they used the recipes at home.

As a result, the community began to use the Take Home Ration from the centers with great fervor and this is seen in the improvement in the health of children and women. During the focus group discussion, more than 50% of the women shared that they are now making various recipes from THR and feeding their children.

On 5 March, a district level nutrition fair was organized in Rajsamand by Jatan in partnership with Hindustan Zinc and ICDS Department, in which more than 500 Anganwadi workers participated. These workers presented a variety of nutritional recipes.

Quality of Take Home Ration

The Take Home Ration (THR) made by self-help groups in the project areas of Udaipur and Rajsamand was sent to the laboratory twice a year for quality check. An increased amount of protein in the THR this year was encouraging.

At the same time, self-help groups were trained at their sites four times a year to make THR. They were trained on cleanliness, raw materials' cleanliness and quality check, fomenting, correct match of raw materials etc.

Advocacy and Building Awareness

Monthly parent meetings at Anganwadi centers, regular progress sharing and issue based advocacy with block, district and state level officials were organized at regular intervals. The Panchayat also was made aware of the progress by participating in each Gram Sabha. The nutritional status of children was shared with Sarpanches and stakeholders of the village and they were requested to conduct periodic inspection of the Anganwadi centers.

The media also contributed a lot in building awareness. The success stories of best work were published by leading newspapers. The practice of better Anganwadi centers also got preference.

In collaboration with the Government of India and Child Line India, Jatan started the Child Line helpline 1098 in Rajsamand District in April 2016, to help children in crisis. This team has achieved milestones of success for three consecutive years.

The objectives of Child Line are to provide every child with their rights, immediate assistance to stranded children, to build a child protection network, and to make various government officials and institutions child friendly.

Outreach

Child Line was introduced by Jatan's Child Line team throughout the year by meeting people in crowded areas, schools, places of worship, bus stands, etc., and campaigned with canopies and free calls on 1098 were made from their phones. Night outreach was also done. As a result, people got to know about this emergency help line and observed an increase in calls in emergency situations. Open houses with brief meetings were held and awareness-based films were screened in this duration.

Friendship Week with Child Line

The team organized a friendship week with Child Line in October. Awareness through competitions and cultural activities was created in various schools in this duration. The District Legal Authority has been a major ally for Child Line. Various campaigns were also continued against sexual violence and child labor.

The tableau of Child Line at the district level Republic Day celebration received the second prize on January 26. Various types of child rights abuses were best described in this tableau.

Coordination and Advocacy with Police

Throughout the year, Child Line networked with various police station staff, police line and police headquarters in the district to build awareness of child rights and child issues. In every emergency situation, the police sent their staff and provided full protection to Child Line and children.

With Adolescents...

Introduction

Jatan has concrete experience of 20 years of working actively with adolescent boys and girls on various subjects. Jatan understood various subjects that affect adolescents and youth, and thus provides them guidance, protection and reference.

In the last two decades, Jatan has developed its understanding on the subjects of life skills education, gender, education, sexual and reproductive health, menstruation management, advocacy and livelihood. A small journey that started from 2 villages of Relmagra has now extended out of Rajasthan to support other organizations in their capacity building.

Jatan has been able to communicate directly with more than 12,500 adolescent girls and boys in various blocks of Udaipur, Bhilwara, Rajsamand, while in other states, it has connected to more than 4000 adolescent girls, boys and youth through training programs.

This year, Jatan has worked through the Hilor Project in 150 villages of Gogunda (Udaipur), through the Child Development Project in 35 other villages of Gogunda, through Project L.O.V.E. in 15 schools of Gogunda and through Kotda Adolescent Girls' Empowerment Project in 10 Panchayats of Sahada (Bhilwara). We also worked on the strengthening of 17 Kasturba Residential Schools of Rajsamand, Dungarpur and Udaipur Districts and on the education and health management of adolescents of slum areas of Udaipur, and on menstruation management with many partner organizations.

Education

Jatan recorded its active presence throughout the year on various issues including the convergence of adolescent girls in mainstream education, life skills education, training on gender and more. During this period, attractive information communication material was prepared for the adolescent girls and the community. Through regular weekly meetings with school drop-out adolescent girls as well as fortnightly social action projects in their localities, their understanding on life skills was expanded. While working with Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalaya (KGBV) strengthening of Meena Manch was done. Along with this the teachers of KGBV were given capacity building training.

Life skill Education and Gender

After the success of the first phase of Hilor in Kherwada, the second phase of Hilor was done with adolescent girls' groups in selected 175 Anganwadi Centers in Gogunda. This year the programme extended life skill strategies to more than 3800 adolescent girls.

In Sahara, Bhilwara, adolescent girls groups of 10 panchayats were linked with elected women representatives. They built an understanding on advocating for own rights through life skills education.

Regular discussions on life skills and gender were held with the adolescent girls of Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalaya.

Anganwadi Profiling and Selection of Peer Educators:

In the initial phase of Hilor, recruitment of the team was done along with their orientation. After that the profiling of selected Anganwadi centers was prepared in Gogunda. With rigorous profiling, the understanding of the geographical and social situation in and around the center was achieved. This led to a direct engagement of the team with the community.

During this time, adolescent girls clubs were formed and peer educators for each group were selected. A detailed peer educators profiling was also completed. After receiving training, these peer educators conducted all the sessions in their respective groups regularly.

Kiran of Manna Ji ka Guda (Gogunda) was saddened that her elder brother had got a motorcycle, where she struggles each day to walk to school, which is 3 kilometers from her home.

When Kiran completed the first cohort at the Hilor adolescent girls club meeting, she felt that the time had come to talk to her father. She gathered courage and confronted her father on the unequal treatment. Two months later, on her birthday, Kiran got a new scooty. She was very happy that day. When her father handed over the key of the Scooty to Kiran he said that he will treat his son and daughter equally from then onwards.

Kiran believes that if people start treating girls and boys the same, girls will not lose out on opportunities. In the recent turn of events, she has now learned to ride a tractor.

Sessions: After the formation of Kishori groups in Sahada and Gogunda, regular monthly and fortnightly meetings were held respectively. Sessions were organized in these meetings about life skills covering social, health and economic related issues. Supporting these sessions, strategies to take up social action in the village along with village representatives were also done.

Cluster Meetings: The clusters of Anganwadi centers organized regular meetings in which the peer educators reviewed the past sessions and developed strategies for the upcoming meetings. In these meetings, refreshers of various upcoming sessions were also organized with peer educators.

Social Action Projects

In this financial year, social action projects (Kar Ke Dekhein) were organized in all the project areas. The objective of social action projects is to practically apply the session lessons. Under social action projects, the adolescent clubs take up an issue of the village and draw action strategies to solve the problem.

This year, Gogunda's adolescent girls took part in a nutrition rally, voter awareness campaign, and campaign against child marriage, while Sahada's adolescents advocated to solve the problem of drinking water in their locality, road light, and the removal of liquor contracts from village's proximity and more.

Support in Quality Education

We supported mainstreaming quality education for students in the 17 Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalayas in Dungarpur, Udaipur and Rajsamand, in the Apna Jatan Center operated in Kutchi Basti area of Udaipur, through Project Love and through the Child Development Project operated in Gogunda.

Level Testing: This year, the educational level of all 17 Kastur Ba schools and 7 schools of Kotra and Gogunda under Project Love were tested. After level testing, efforts were made to improve their standard by conducting special classes with children who need assistance. A similar strategy was adopted for school going children of Apna Jatan Center, Udaipur.

Strengthening Meena Manch: Jatan supported the facilitators of Meena Manch in all 17 Kasturba Gandhi Balika schools in rejuvenating the manch as per the government guidelines. Regular meetings of the forum and action work were thoroughly ensured.

Library: Jatan took great efforts to make the libraries of Kasturba Gandhi schools, Child Development Project (Gogunda), Project Love (Gogunda and Kotra) prosperous and active. Special attention was paid to regular opening and regular access for children to the library.

Support Classes: Under Project Love, support classes were conducted for children in other schools including Mandwa, Jhed, Bhula. Due to shortage of teachers in many schools, special classes of science, mathematics and English were also conducted.

Efforts were made towards continued education with school going and drop out adolescents of Gogunda through Building Basic Skills classes operated under Child Development Project.

Regular support classes were given to adolescents of classes 6 to 8 at Apna Jatan Center (Udaipur) post school functioning. Children were taught for 2 hours each day on various subjects at the center.

Mainstreaming and Support in Higher Education: 187 girls from Gogunda, Udaipur and Sahada took steps for further education this year. Many of the adolescent girls in Gogunda and Sahada filled their tenth, twelfth and open schooling of higher education. Along with this 7 drop out adolescent girls belonging to Apna Jatan Kendra re-entered school this year. Their regular attendance at the school was monitored through school visits and they were provided additional assistance through support classes. The girls were also provided with teaching materials.

Teachers Training: A regular teacher training program was conducted with the teachers of Kasturba Gandhi schools. During this time they were given special training on co-curricular activities. Their capacities were enhanced on the themes like life skills education, gender, reproductive health and more.

Under Project Love, practice sessions were organized with teachers of Gogunda and Kotra. Under the Child Development Project, a one-day dialogue program with the teachers was organized; the challenges that emerged in this meeting were documented.

Health- Nutrition

This year witnessed many activities in the field of personal and community health-hygiene and nutrition. The main focus was on adolescent girls and women who conceived at an early age. During the organization of Kishori Melas, regular health check-ups of adolescents were done and they were assisted with distribution of iron folic acid tablets. Significant progress was also recorded on the theme of reproductive health and menstrual health management, the core subjects of Jatan.

Awareness Generation

During the social action projects, adolescent girls raised many serious issues related to health-hygiene and nutrition in their villages. During this period, topics such as personal health of adolescent girls, anemia, and lack of proper nutrition also came out. To address these issues, joint meetings of adolescent groups were held with frontline workers of the Health Department and ICDS Department of Rajasthan to ensure the appropriate schemes and services reach the adolescent girls.

During this period, adolescents were linked to the take home ration, iron tablets, and health checkup services at the Anganwadi center. These topics were also discussed alongside with the community. Along with this sanitation kits were distributed to selected adolescent girls under the Child Development Project.

Games

Child Development Project, Gogunda initiated the concept of better health of adolescents through sports. In March 2018, Khel Mahakumbh was organized among more than 150 adolescents from different villages in Gogunda. It was quite a unique event. Through this event adolescents were made aware of good health and healthy lifestyle.

The adolescent girls of Hillor (Gogunda) and Sahada understood the importance of sports and health through different sports in the Kishori Fair. During this time, a mixed confluence of traditional games and modern games appeared. Under Project Love, the children of Gogunda and Kotra played various sports at Fatehsagar in Udaipur and everybody witnessed the amalgam of rural and urban games interplay.

Regular Health Check-ups

Regular check-ups of adolescent girls were conducted at Anganwadi Centers along with regular screening of adolescent girls and young mothers. A total of 13 adolescents were referred to the district hospital in collaboration with the RKSK Programme of the Rajasthan Government.

A quarterly health check-up was conducted at the Apna Jatan Center. This program was organized in collaboration with a private hospital. All students were subjected to a physical check-up, anemia, eye-ear-throat, skin, teeth and more. Healthy lifestyle and hygiene practices were ensured by Child Development Project through regular health check-ins. This was done also with Children of Life stage two and three of 35 villages of Gogunda. Referral to District hospital was done as needed.

Sexual Reproductive Health and Menstrual Health Management

Being the core issue of Jatan, sexual and reproductive health and menstrual management activities were conducted in Jatan's project locations. Giving technical support to various organizations, Jatan actively conducted menstrual health management activities, including breaking the silence on the subject and addressing the curiosities of adolescent girls.

Community Health Discussions

Under the Child Development Project, community health was widely discussed with adolescent girls and other community members including parents, Gram Sabha, Village Health Sanitation Committee (VHSNC) etc. Distribution of hygiene kits to the sponsored children was also done. Through regular meetings of the Village Health Sanitation Committee (VHSNC), sessions were held with committee members on the full utilization of untied funds.

At first, Pushpa laughed as it was the first time she heard that there can be any training in farming too. She said, her father will teach it as well. But when she was involved in advanced agricultural training, she learned many new things. After training, she planted chillis in small portion of the field.

As the yield grew, Pushpa's mother Devibai became more proud of her. Pushpa gives her recreation time to her fields after school. She now wants to cultivate flowers.

Capacity Building

Along with regular vocational training and convergence, this year was dedicated to capacity building and new information-technology transfer in various trades for adolescents. The teenage girls of Apna Jatan presented their skills in a theatre play. 3 Kishori girls took part in Kishori Reporter training and effectively brought the issues of their village to mainstream media.

Skill Development/ Placements

On September, 2-wheeler driving, computer training and vocational tailoring training were organized for the teenagers of Railamgara and Sahada. 147 adolescents participated in it. 234 adolescent girls from Hilor, Gogunda participated in the training of electric fittings, computer hardware, sewing, mobile repairing and more.

In December, 23 youth belonging to different projects participated in 3 day long videography training.

Fellowship/Entrepreneurship

Under Project Love, youth from all over the country were invited to stay in villages for a fellowship on the education and all-round development of children. 8 fellows stayed in Kotda and Gogunda throughout the year and supported education in local schools. 13 youth received a 3-day training on entrepreneurship.

Financial Skills

65 adolescent girls in Kutchi Basti area of Udaipur, Railmagra, Gogunda and Sahada were provided a training on financial transactions, the banking system and its utilization, savings and more.

Advanced Agriculture and Goat Farming

Training on advanced farming was conducted in May-June with 23 adolescents associated with The Child Development Project. Training was imparted on the use of manual agricultural equipment, labor reduction, soil and water testing etc. In December, 9 youth received training on goat rearing.

Kishori Fair & Learning Festival

For the fourth consecutive year in Sahada, the Kishori Mela "Ummeedon Ka Safar" was organized. 500 adolescent girls attended this mela. In this daylong fair, various sessions were organized for the adolescent girls concerning increased motivation to fulfill their dreams, information on various trainings, health checkups, sports, dance, self-defence and so on.

Networking / Communication

Adolescent girls from Sahada, Gogunda, Udaipur and Railamgara visited the police station, gram panchayat, hospital, block headquarters, and collector office this year to understand the functioning of each place and share important issues with the authorities.

With Panchayati Raj

The adolescent girls of the 10 Panchayats of Sahada worked actively with elected women people's representatives throughout the year. They increased their understanding on their own role in village development. These adolescent girls raised their voice with the elected women representatives to solve various problems of the village. The results were also impressive. In Panchayats, many decisions concerning girls and women were taken including drinking water pipeline installation, activating roadways bus routes and more.

With Women...

Introduction

While working with migratory youth in 2001 it was observed that when youth migrate female partners are left behind with no one to care for them. The “ghungat” custom worsens the problem as it makes it difficult for women to speak out about their health issues; if the problem is related to reproduction or sexual health than it is even harder. At this point Jatan felt the need to work on such issues, later child marriage and HIV were added as issues to the movement.

Since the beginning Jatan was working on reproductive health and menstruation. Not only women but men also joined the mission. At the local level cotton cloths were given a shape of pads for sustainable menstrual management. This later took the shape of the “UGER” movement on a larger scale.

A new era begin in 2002 when, with the help of the Hunger Project, the work on capacity building of female representatives started in Railmangra. This proved to be a milestone on the path of development through strengthening female representation in local governance.

In the year 2006, Jatan took its first steps towards strengthening the Village Health Sanitation and Nutrition Committee and Rajasthan Medicare Relief Society Committee in Rajsamand by working on pre and post natal care, nutrition, and other health services for women in association with CHETNA Ahmedabad.

In 2013 Jatan in association with the state government stood against domestic violence on women and established an advice and protection center for women in and under the district women’s police station. In 2016 Jatan took a step ahead in supporting women more against the domestic violence by establishing family counseling centers.

Today Jatan is working actively with women on their issues in Rajsamand, Bhilwara and Udaipur Districts. Changes can be seen with efforts from the last 18 years as the local community is active concerning their rights. Women are coming out of their homes in large numbers and speaking about their issues and demanding their rights.

Women leadership in Panchayati Raj

Jatan since 2002 has been working with newly elected female representatives from the support and under the guidance of The Hunger Project, Jaipur. Regular activities with the Female Sarpanch Groups of Railmangra (Rajsamand) and Sahada (Bhilwara) have been conducted to increase cooperation and develop an understanding on the area development through their rights. These groups have already developed the understanding on the challenges faced in mutual cooperation, building an understanding and working as a team.

The main objective of the project is to provide information on their rights through capacity building of female representatives, especially in cases where women's entitlements and issues related are prominent.

This was the last year for female representatives to complete and present their work. It was also important for every female representative to present their work during 2019-2020 in front of the common people before the next election. Likewise, a lot of work was done on the Village Development Fund.

Capacity Building and Support

This year the main focus was on the capacity building of female representatives on the Gram Panchayat Development Policy and how to apply for the budget for the development of village. Regular workshops were organized in the month of May on the challenges faced in the implementation of social protection schemes and providing employment through MGNREGA.

Training on the making of the Panchayat Report Card was organized in the month of January 2019 to share the development in the Panchayats up till now.

This year female representatives' capacity also was built on the identification of issues to be raised in front of the state government, evidence collection, and documentation.

Maternal health will improve if the circumstances of the hospital change

In Lakhola (Sahada), due to not having a female doctor, no woman used to go to the hospital for conducting her investigation. Sarpanch Kanchan Devi felt bad that despite having a hospital, women used to go to Gangapur, 20 km away, for delivery. Kanchan Devi took this work on priority and sought help by submitting a continuous memorandum at the district level in collaboration with Mahila Panch Sarpanch Groups. The result was that Lakhola Primary Health Center got a female doctor.

Dr. Rinu Jeengar, who got her first appointment in Lakhola (Sahada), says that in the hospital where there was not a single delivery there are now an estimated 12-14 deliveries done every month. The hospital has such good facilities with the help of sarpanch that it has been declared an ideal primary health center by the Health Department. The hospital is equipped with a few beds so patients can be admitted.

Kanchan Devi is proud about the fact that Lakhole (Sahada) attends more delivery cases than Gangapur.

Mahila Jagruk Manch

In 10 Panchayats of each Railmagara and Sahada, meetings of Mahila Jagruk Manch were held to assist women representatives regularly. The women of the Mahila Jagruk Manch work closely with the community to overcome the obstacles faced by the current leadership. To ensure change they also look closely at the work of the Panchayati Raj, work with them and prepares for upcoming elections accordingly. It is noteworthy that there are proportionately 33 women members in each Mahila Jagruk Manch.

Work Recognized in the Community

Rajsamand - The work of the women representatives of Bhilwara has been appreciated at the national level for their remarkable work done in the fields of girl education, health and nutrition. This year, the Panch Sarpanch Groups of Sahada got the approval for a new college in the block through their own efforts, while following the organization's memorandum in Rajsamand, the state government instructed the district administration to work intensively. Many women Sarpanches have been honored at the national and state level as well. At present, 29 women Sarpanches and 279 female ward-panches are being recognized for their work.

Women's Panch Sarpanch Groups

In all four quarters in Railmangra and Sahada, meetings of the "Mahila Panch-Sarpanch Sangathan" were held on the Jatan campus. This year has been full of achievements to solve the problems of the region through mutual cooperation. In the meetings, meaningful discussions were held on topics like the girl education initiatives, formation of women uplift committees at the panchayat level, the role of the counseling board, drinking water, roads, electricity, removal of liquor shops, implementation of social security schemes, prevention of social evils, etc. During this, the achievements of the organization of the previous year were also discussed. In Railmangra alone, the women representatives gave 222 memorandums to resolve problems in the individual category.

Conversation

In the dialogue program organized at the district level, the women representatives met the candidates of both the major parties in the Lok Sabha and Assembly elections, understood their agenda and got their subjects included in their manifesto.

After the elections, the women representatives of both the subdivisions, together with the MPs and MLAs, reminded them of their promises and also spoke of lobbying from time to time. As a result of these efforts, the construction of a "Women's Bathroom" in the area was done, Swachh Bharat Mission was carried out in Panchayats and good results were seen in health and education sectors. Many schools also filled vacant posts of their teachers.

ग्राम पंचायत बजट खर्च स्थिति

स्रोत: पंचायत समिति, रेलमगरा

On analyzing the budget received from the Finance Commission, Panchayats in Railmagara and Sahada found that the percentage of expenditure in Panchayats represented by women sarpanches is much better than that of male sarpanches. According to the state finance (V), where the male sarpanch was able to spend 83%, the female sarpanch spent about 89%. In the Fourteenth Finance Commission, women sarpanches also won. Panchayats represented by women sarpanches were also ahead in Mahatma Gandhi NREGA program. Where the male sarpanch spent 134 lakh rupees in the MNREGA, the female sarpanches spent 140 lakh rupees.

Against violence

“Rupa Bai’s husband left her with five daughters and brought another woman under the “Nata Pratha.” Rupa's fault was that she had given birth to 5 daughters continuously and could not give a son to her family. As soon as this came in Jatan’s notice, first at the community level and then with the help of the police her husband was held guilty and punished, Rupa was given an equal share in the property, and her monthly maintenance was fixed for the upbringing of the daughters.

Family Counseling Center

A total of 52 complaints were presented this year at the family counseling center "Asha" set up by Jatan at the district level since 2016, while Jatan's assistance was sought by local police stations in more than 60 other cases. Most of the cases recorded in Jatan were related to beating and deprivation of maintenance by a male partner. In some cases, along with financial violence, cases like not getting timely treatment, mismatched marriage, and torture by calling witch, also came up. This year, 70% of the total recorded cases were resolved and follow-up was taken, providing interim assistance. Counseling and police complaints are continuing in the remaining cases. This center is a project run and funded by Jatan for three consecutive years. It is being operated at Rajsamand district level along with Railmangra.

Campaign Against Violence

The campaign against violence against women, which has been going on continuously for 6 years, was also organized in Sahada and Railmangra in February this year. During this time, awareness was created through the mediums of an exhibition, rally, posters, street discussion etc. in 10 panchayats each of both blocks by Chetna Rath. Through this campaign, direct access to more than 5000 homes was reached while more than 45,000 people were reached.

Against Child Marriage

In August, Jatan organized a district-level rath yatra in collaboration with UNFPA in Rajsamand District against child marriage. Education Minister Kiran Maheshwari flagged off this rath yatra. This Rath Yatra reached every block of Rajsamand district in 60 days. Movies inspired by the harms of child marriage were screened in 45 panchayats during night holds.

In September in Amali Panchayat of Sahada block, the consciousness building campaign against child marriage was started by the local teenager group with the help of the ward panch. This campaign gradually spread throughout the Gangapur region. Under this campaign, widespread public awareness was created in 9 panchayats.

A campaign under the HILOR project in Gogunda also made the local public aware of the ill effects of child marriage at 165 Anganwadi centers.

Coordination

Rajsamand, especially the Railmangra police station, sought help from Jatan directly in over 60 cases of violence against women, in which Jatan's counselors went to the police station and met the accused to help them in fighting the case in court till they got justice. The Umeed center for counselling got a lot of support from the District administration, Police, District legal aid center, bar association, etc.

Health nutrition

Along with the health and nutrition of women and adolescents this year, including proper nutrition and health of pregnant women, proper feeding of adolescent girls, proper implementation of social security schemes, as well as advocating for change through the use of the status of state schemes at the village level – that is to say many community efforts were made for the dignified life of daughters. In this, training of Anganwadi workers, Asha and ANM were also done.

Maternal Health and Nutrition

Continuous work was carried out in 102 panchayats of Rajsamand, Railamgara and Khamnor, including 25 villages of Gogunda, as a "positive change" program for the better health of mother and child with pregnant women. In Gogunda, selected women volunteers were selected as "Lead Mothers" and were given continuous training. The responsibility of these volunteers is to take care of the better health and nutrition of pregnant women and their children in their respective villages. The community-based model received very good results. The best results came from the results of the regularly held "Maternity and Child Health Day and Immunization (MCHND)", where the percentage of attendance at the health check-up for immunization of pregnant women was increased from 72% to 88%.

Capacity Addition Workshops: Under the Khushi Project in Rajsamand, regular awareness programs were organized for proper health of pregnant women and lactating. Subject experts took sessions in special meetings of mothers at the Anganwadi level every quarter. These reached an average of 11,500 women every quarter. Apart from this, special focus was placed on nutrition through the continuous recipe making competition. Kitchen gardens and recipe making workshops have yielded many results.

Participation of Panchayats: Special sessions were organized in coordination with other departments with the Panchayati Raj, Women Child Development and Health and Medical Department in collaboration with women representatives in Railamgara and Sahada. Public representatives were sensitized on women's health and issues related to it, working on related issues, releasing a sufficient budget in GPDP and capacity building for its follow up.

With Rogi Kalyan Samiti: Successful efforts were made to expand and improve the arrangements at the Community Health Center (CHC) by holding regular Rogi Kalyan Samiti (Rajstan Medicare Relief Society) meetings at Railamgara.

Creation Honor

Massive awareness programs were organized in Rajsamand district under the "Betiyon ki Baatein" campaign with the aim of creating awareness against the desire of giving birth to the son only, controlling the falling child sex ratio and restoring the dignified life of the daughters.

Parents who have one or two daughters, and who do not want children any more, were given "Srishtidayini Samman." This year, 31 couples were awarded with this honor. So far, more than 980 couples have been given this honor.

Reproductive Health and Menstruation Management

Along with the health and nutrition of women and adolescents this year, including proper nutrition and health of pregnant women, proper food for adolescent girls, proper implementation of social security schemes, as well as advocating for change from the status of state schemes at the village level. In this, training of Anganwadi workers, Asha and ANM were also done.

UGER

UGER (In Mewari means a new beginning) is a movement for strengthening females, breaking the silence around menstruation, and building the awareness of people on issues of menstruation. Under this, the focus has been on activities such as regular menstrual management and studies related to menstrual health and building consciousness.

Training was held regularly this year for the manufacture of cotton, eco-friendly and reusable sanitary pads, named 'UGER.' As an environmentally friendly and more sustainable option of menstrual management, this pad is being promoted by Jatan to awaken the community to the economic, social, environmental and health related losses due to the disposable sanitary pads available in the market.

Coordination with Different States

This year the UGER program started women self-help groups in the northeastern states of Meghalaya, Assam, Arunachal Pradesh and Manipur in conjunction with IIT, Chennai, mainly in collaboration with the Government of India (Ministry of North East Development and Other Affairs). Jatan coordinated with the Women and Child Development and Women Empowerment Departments of Haryana, Bihar and Rajasthan Government as well.

Consciousness Building with Men

Menstruation is not only a women's matter, rather it is a matter of the whole society. Accordingly, Jatan continued to train men and teenagers on menstrual management. During this time, along with building a general understanding of the subject, the men also learned to make Ugar pads. This year, male trainers were involved in most of the trainings.

Interns and volunteers as well as personnel of Jatan's team and partner institutions were also sensitized on this subject. Making an understanding on the topic of reproductive health and menstrual management, all trainee men were also taught to make UGER pads.

UGER with Partner Institutions and CSR

The Hinduja Solutions Foundation distributed 2,800 UGER pads to 700 adolescent girls in state schools in Bangalore, Mysore, Guntur, Hyderabad and Chennai on the occasion of Women's Day. Spark Minda Foundation (Delhi) purchased a large number of UGER pads from Jatan and distributed them in their respective areas.

In collaboration with Spark Minda Foundation, Reproductive Health and UGER Pad making workshops with 530 women in Sriperumbudur (Tamil Nadu), Pantnagar (Uttarakhand), Rajgurunagar (Pune Rural), Noida (UP) and Hisar (Haryana) were organized two times. By joining with the Tata Trusts, UGER found its area of expansion in the tribal dominated area of southern Rajasthan. Pune's The Orchid Hotel Group organized menstrual health training for its staff on the occasion of Women's Day and gave UGER products a place in their hotel, stepping towards making their hotel an environment friendly hotel.

Jatan participated in menstrual management and training programs this year in collaboration with IDS (Jaipur), UNFPA, UNICEF, Plan India, Jagriti Yatra (Bangalore), AMIED, Vidya Bhavan, The Study School, KGBV- Rajasthan, Technoserve India, Center for Advocacy and Research, Urmul Frontier, Seva Mandir, Azad Foundation along with Adi.

UGER with Educational Institutions

Students of many educational institutions are also associated with this program. Srishti School of Design (Bangalore), IIT Chennai, IIT Mumbai, IIM Udaipur, Nirma University (Ahmedabad), Symbiosis Institute of Design (Pune), Northwestern University (US) and Foundation for Sustainable Development (Canadian) trainees continued their training under the UGER program.

With Partners and Community...

Introduction

This year, Jatan not only did its job by providing guidance and mentorship to other partner organizations, but also worked on strengthening community-based committees and capacity building.

Expanding its operations in the child development project in Gogunda, Jatan provided guidance to two other institutions as the lead partner, while advancing the best strategies of working with children and adolescent girls.

In the Rajsamand district and Gogunda, Udaipur, with the support of the community work was also done on infrastructural development. In partnership with Hindustan Zinc, the major work establishing 100 Anganwadi centers in Rajsamand district as model centers, known as Nandghar was also completed this year.

With Community based groups

Jatan has made a consistent effort to increase the participation of the community in social development so that they can create self-sustaining practices. With the aim, work to build the capacity of various community-based committees as well as to create the practice of working with transparency has been undertaken to bring the deprived sections of the society into the mainstream.

Village Health, Sanitation, Nutrition and Water Committee (VHSNWC)

A sustained effort was made in Rajsamand, Bhilwara, and Gogunda this year on capacity building of the members of the Village Health Sanitation Nutrition Water Committee, VHANWC, formed at the state sub village level. The training of a total of 2150 members of 10 committees was completed this year. The result has been that the regular monthly meeting of the committee started and the maximum utilization of election funds was ensured. Moreover, that amount was exercised the Anganwadi centers on children and adolescent girls.

Ayurvedic Health Mela

An eight-day Ayurveda Arogya Mela was organized with the District Ayurveda Department and Hindustan Zinc with the aim of spreading awareness about common diseases, prevention of regular diseases and spreading the benefits of ayurveda and natural medicine to the masses.

In the fair, Ayurveda Medicine, Unani Medicine, Homeopathy, Jara Vasta, Medical nature of diseases, Prakriti therapy, Panchakarma, Charitra beauty, Yoga, Naturopathy, Champion, order therapy, pronunciation therapy, and neuro therapy preparations were done in which 23,465 patients were treated. More than a thousand patients underwent such treatment for the first time.

School Management Committee

Capacity building and regular monthly meetings of the School Management Committee SMC of 17 Kasturba Gandhi Residential Schools in Udaipur, Dungarpur, and Rajsamand were ensured under the Prajwala Project.

On the basis of the proposal of 10 SMCs that started regular meetings in Gogunda under the child development project, digital smart classrooms were established in 10 schools and need-based training was conducted from time to time including elections and regular meetings of all the committees.

Library

The community was provided a platform to study newspapers and interact with newspapers by setting up a voice reading room at 5 places in Gogunda. This center is successfully operating. In the next financial year, similar special centers are planned for adolescent girls.

Infrastructure

Under the various schemes in Jatan for better education and well-being and with the support of the community, renovations on existing structures and the new establishment of various structures were undertaken. With the support of Hindustan Zinc 110 Nanda houses were built in Rajsamand whereas in Rajsamand and Gogunda many centers were converted into Model Anganwadi centers. 10 new water plants were established in Gogunda and the work of improving the condition of the toilets in Gogunda in selected state schools was undertaken.

Nandghar

In view of the good results for conversion in Rajsamand district, this time it was decided to promote Sone Anganwadi centers to Nand Ghar, to provide child development services. This work too was supported by Hind Zinc.

After the necessary repairs in the selected 100 centers with the support of the community, the centers were regularized as per the Nandghar guide. The local panchayats also openly supported this process.

Nandghar: at a glance

Total Nandghar : 110

Area : Rajsamand (27), Railmagra (58) and Khamnor (25)

Facilities:

Bala Painting, Safe Structure

Smart TV for e-learning

Solar panels for electricity

Child Friendly toilet

Boring or 24x7 water supply

Purifier for drinking water

Kitchen garden

First-aid kit

Individual educational kit, uniforms and sandals

AWC Staff capacity building

Regular Health check-ups

Boundary wall construction for the centers as well as repairs in the kitchens, toilets, main hall, roofs, taps, and power distribution etc. were carried out. In the initial phase of the work done in this financial year, infrastructure-related development work has been completed and upon the completion of material installations next year, these institutes will be handed over to the local Panchayats to be maintained in the future.

Model Anganwadi

In view of the success of Rajsamand, this experiment was also carried out in Gogunda (Udaipur) and Sahada (Bhilwara). Under the Child Development Project, the selected Anganwadi centers were converted into Model centers by providing the necessary support, including painting, repairs, toilets for the children, and educational support for Anganwadi personnel. The model centers were made in the following localities of Gogunda: Jogiyo ka Guda, Futiya, Kachhba, Mazaam, Bagadungra, Majaavaad, Badoondiya, Mada and Malariya.

Under the Khushi Project, with the cooperation of the community and local panchayats, 53 Anganwadi centers completed the necessary repairs including painting, educational painting, establishment of toilets, etc.

In Sahada, local women sarpanches undertook amazing work to support the health and education of children by converting the anganwadi centers into model centers. It is noteworthy that in Rajsamand and Sahada this work was carried out 100% by the local community.

Treatment Plants for Drinking Water

To provide drinking water in tribal area, water plants were set up with community support in early January. This year, 5 new locations were selected and in collaboration with ChildFund India. This work was completed in collaboration with the community – Jatan simply provided the material whereas the Tanya villagers completed the construction and administration work for the installation. As a result of the shared-responsibility, all five machines continued to operate smoothly till the end of the year and there were no incidents of breakage or theft.

Toilet Construction

Toilet construction work was completed at 53 Anganwadi centers in Rajsamand with the cooperation of Panchayats, all the work was achieved by Jatan was due to better networking from local panchayats.

Gogunda's schools have been facing many cases of lack of water and unfit conditions of the toilets. Thus, Jatan took up the work of constructing 5 new toilet complexes that are complete with extra space for girls to wash their hands and feet.

Interns and Volunteers

The year 2018 to 2019 has been an important year for the institution in internships and volunteers. Educators from India and abroad have developed their understanding in social work and techniques by joining various projects of Jatan. Furthermore, our projects were adjusted and improved from the input of the new perspectives provided by the volunteers.

The last two groups of the Volume Again Program ICS, running with Prabha Delhi, comprised of Indian and UK volunteers, who were connected with local youth in the village of Railamangra to work on development issues. They together formed youth clubs of which Sansare Shamshera and Kandel Group are active. Six interns came from IIHMR, Jaipur for 2 months to conduct research on topics like nutrition and health in Rajsamand. A volunteer from FSD Canada, Daniel Buccanan did helpful work on breast cancer for Jatan. A six-month volunteer from Princeton University, Laila Owens, supported the work of Uger and documentation in general.

Host families play a key role in this program, and Jatan is blessed that over the years we have formed a large network of host families, that not indirectly teach our volunteers by accepting them as a family member in their home, but also show them the customs and traditions associated with the Indian civilization, which is helpful in understanding the culture.

Changing Color, Changing thinking

Workshop on Sexuality, 28-29 December 2018

This year, a two-day training was organized to raise awareness and make progress in society concerning the rights and status of the LGBTQ community. The training was conducted by well-known leaders on this subject from Mumbai, Shruti and Pooja, who explained the topics of gender and sexuality very well.

The main objective of the workshop was to develop an understanding of sexuality and its various dimensions, to come out of the established thinking and then to consider the rights of the LGBT community. The workshop was quite successful in these efforts.

The first day started by examining the structure of social relationships, in which the most and least acceptable relationships were discussed in detail. Then an open discussion was held on gender and sexuality, sexual orientation, hetero-norms, social rules related to gender, and the social rules that have been broken by participants. Finally, the fear and hesitation that will affect individuals and families as the dominant rules of society are transcended were discussed.

On the second day a number of topics were discussed including an introduction of LGBTQ community, its social status, its mental status, the reason for society's rejection of them, Section 377, recognizing one's own sexuality, related protests in India and abroad, and specific cases.

This workshop ensured that in the future this topic will be more fully pursued as well as ensuring that the understanding of this topic by the Jatan team was greatly expanded. It was also decided that more workshops on this subject will be conducted.

Jashn-e-Jatan: Punjab-da-tashan

Jatan celebrated its 18th Foundation Day by on June 12 at Rail Mangra with the theme of Punjab's Tashan. The premises and stage were decorated as a Punjabi Paint Village while Punjabi Tadka was served up from the Dastarkhan Khabar kitchen. All the staff personnel also dressed up in colorful Punjabi style.

Rango from Patiala presented various aspects of Punjabi culture in the cultural program. The performances included Lohri Zinda Bhangra presenting Sohni Mahiwal Aditya, comrades from Gogunda presenting a drama against child marriage, a Punjabi dance from America, and the Udaipur team performed a Punjabi fusion dance.

On this occasion, the second Vijay Joshi Award was conferred jointly to 2 youths of Udaipur. These youth showed humanism by immediately taking an injured person to the hospital after a road accident on Salumber Marg.

Staff members from Jalana, Railamgara, Rajsamand and adjoining Jatan members such as committee members, general assembly advisory committee members, representatives of partner organizations, etc. were all present as guests to join in the celebration of 18 years of work.

Tour-de-Jaisalmer

This year, the annual capacity building camp for Jatan staff was organized as a desert tour of Jaisalmer. This four-day tour included special sessions on mutual learning as well as interesting, team-building games.

The first day of the camp was inaugurated with local songs. The special guest to inaugurate the program was the famous Rajasthan poet and writer Aidan Singh. Late, Mr. Charan suggested ways to make children's songs and discussed the importance of local languages in his education. The DYP representative also spoke on important aspects of Gender and sexuality.

At the cultural evening held, Jatan workers performed various song and dances and participated in a "Ramp Walk" to display cultural styles. This year, Miss and Mr. Jatan were won by Vinita Kumar and Marudhar Singh respectively.

The tour also included a Jaisalmer city tour, an Evening tour jeep safari, a desert camel safari and a visit to the Jaisalmer War Memorial.

Menstruation

Including boys and men in conversations

Why include boys and men?

Cultural norms, superstitions, taboos and silence around menstruation lead to limited or no factual information. Awareness and scientific knowledge will sensitize everyone towards the needs of menstruators. At Jatan Sansthan, we see awareness and training and the stitching of Uger cloth pads as an empowering tool. We specifically encourage boys and men to make Uger cloth pads and gift it those they care for!

Uger cloth pads comes in four varieties. Pads for heavy and light flow, pantyliners, and belted pad. Uger pads are sustainable. (i) Made of cotton fabric, the pads decompose within 4 - 6 months causing no menstrual debris. (ii) Products cause no allergies, no itching or boils. (iii) There are two ways to access pads, learn how to stitch your own pad or purchase pads.
